

Privacy Notice (How we use student information)

You have a legal right to be informed about how our school uses any personal information that we hold about you. To comply with this, we provide a “privacy notice” to you where we are processing your personal data. This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about you.

We, City Academy Norwich, supported by Bohunt Education Trust, are the “data controller” for the purposes of data protection law.

The Data Protection Officer for City Academy Norwich is Raine Ryland, Governance Lead, Bohunt Education Trust. She can be contacted on 01428 724324 or info@bohuntrtrust.com.

We hold some personal information about you to make sure we can help you learn and look after you at school.

For the same reasons, we get information about you from some other places too – like other schools, the local council and the government.

The categories of student information that we collect, hold and share include:

- Personal information (such as name, unique pupil number and address)
- Characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, nationality, country of birth and free school meal eligibility)
- Attendance information (such as sessions attended, number of absences and absence reasons) and exclusions
- Assessment information
- Pupil and Curricular records
- Safeguarding information
- Details of any support received, including care packages, plans and support providers
- Modes of travel
- Relevant medical, special educational needs and behavioural information
- Post-16 learning information
- Photographs
- CCTV images captured in school
- Biometric data (fingerprints) where needed to access school payment systems

Why we collect and use this information

We use the student data:

- to support learning
- to monitor and report on progress
- to provide appropriate pastoral care
- to assess the quality of our services and how well our School and the Trust are doing
- to comply with the law regarding data sharing

The lawful basis on which we use this information

We will only collect and use your information when the law allows us to. Most often, we will use your information where:

- We need to comply with the law
- We need to use it to carry out a task in the public interest (in order to provide you with an education)
- We need to protect your interests (or someone else's interest)

Sometimes we may also use your personal information where you or your parents/carers have given us permission to use it in a certain way.

Collecting student information

Whilst the majority of student information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with the General Data Protection Regulation, we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain information to us or if you have a choice in this. Where we are using your personal information only on the basis of your permission you may ask us to stop processing this personal information at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for permission, and explain how to go about withdrawing consent.

Storing data

We will keep personal information about you while you are a student at our school. We may also keep it after you have left the school, where we are required to by law. We have a record retention schedule which sets out how long we must keep information about students. We generally keep student records until they are 22 years of age, however there are some records which are kept for longer due to special circumstances.

Who we share student information with

We routinely share student information with:

- schools that the students attend after leaving us
- our local authority
- the Department for Education (DfE)
- Our regulator – Ofsted
- Our auditors
- Bohunt Education Trust
- Suppliers and service providers
- Police forces, courts, tribunals
- Medical professionals

Why we share student information

We do not share information about our students with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

We share student data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring.

We are required to share information about our students with the (DfE) under regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

Data collection requirements:

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example; via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

Youth support services

Students aged 13+

Once our students reach the age of 13, we also pass student information to our local authority and / or provider of youth support services as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- youth support services
- careers advisers

A parent or guardian can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth is passed to their local authority or provider of youth support services by informing us. This right is transferred to the child / student once he/she reaches the age 16.

Students aged 16+

We will also share certain information about students aged 16+ with our local authority and / or provider of youth support services as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- post-16 education and training providers
- youth support services
- careers advisers

For more information about services for young people, please visit our local authority website.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about students in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our students to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The department may share information about our students from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and

- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to student information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

For more information about the department's data sharing process, please visit:

Requesting access to your personal data

Under data protection legislation, parents and students have the right to request access to information about them that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, or be given access to your child's educational record, contact the Trust Data Protection Officer (see above for details)

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, we request that you raise your concern with us in the first instance. Alternatively, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
